

extenuating circumstances and fitness to study procedures and specialist support services where appropriate) be better prepared for post-course professional development, employment or further study develop a positive attitude to lifelong learning.